

I put my hand against the wall. I wanted to touch it, but I didn't want to get wet. I tried holding the towel, but I couldn't reach out to grab it. It felt just like touching the wall. I felt embarrassed by it. So I came into the room. I came into the room and I'm sitting there and the towel just wouldn't go with me. I didn't know what to do. I was trying to get my pants off, I just couldn't figure out how to do that. The towel was so big.

I can't wear jewelry, because I find it distracting. I was also in high school and I tried on and off to wear all the glasses because I found them to be too hard on my eyes. So now I wear glasses most of the time. I have decided that I will take two men's pumps because I find that they are actually more flattering on me than their size, so I will not be shaving for at least another year. I also recently completed a large amount of making long shirts and clothing.

Handwritten musical notation consisting of seven staves of music. The notation is dense and appears to be a complex rhythmic or melodic exercise, possibly for a string instrument. It features numerous slurs, accents, and dynamic markings throughout the piece.
